AROUND TOWN.

The faithful old buggy horse of Rev. W. T. Ussery passed away Sunday night.

DEATHS HARVEST.

W. M. Davis.

W. M. Davis, an aged and respected resident of Spring Hill for the past thirty-five years, a rural carrier from that office, and a man held in the highest esteem, died at his home Friday. Mr. Davis was stricken with paralysis Wednesday morning as he started out on his regular trip for the delivery of his mail and had only driven a short distance when the stroke came. He never recovered from the effects, gradually growing worse until the end came. W. M. Davis was an excellent citizen, a consistent member of the Methodist church and a man whose attributes of character endeared him to all.

The deceased is survived by his widow, two sons, Hardin who is in the United States navy and William, who lives at Nashville; three daughters, Mrs. Pickett of Marshall county, Mrs. A. W. Bunch and Mrs. John Nellums.

The funeral will be conducted at the Methodist church Sunday at 1 o'clock by Revs. R. H. Hudgens, C. C. McNeill and J. H. Nichols.

Oakes & Nichols in charge.

James Tindell.

James Tindell, who lived on the Lewisburg and Franklin pike, just over the Maury county line, died at his home Sunday afternoon at the age of seventy-two years. He was one of the best known and most substantial citizens of that county and section and was highly esteemed in several counties. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Hardison, and four brothers and one sister. The burial will take place at the Morton graveyard Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Miss Clara Bruce.

At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Bruce, at Spring Hill, Miss Clara Vesta Bruce died Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, aged 27 years. She was a most lovable young woman and her death is deeply deplored by a large list of friends. She was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and was ever active and interested in the work of the church. The remains will be taken to Lenoirville for burial where the funeral will be conducted at the grave Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

H. S. Smith, undertaker, in charge.

RUSH WORK ON
PHONE BUILDING

EVERYTHING IS GOING FORWARD
WITH A RUSH ON THE CUMBERLAND EXCHANGE.

Work is being rapidly pressed on the new building on South Garden street to be occupied by the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company. Excavations for the foundation are well under way and tool houses and offices for the contractors have already been erected in the street opposite the front of the building.

Only bad weather can delay the work on the building. It is expected to be ready for the installation of the offices and exchange before hot weather comes.

GOVERNOR GONE TO OKLAHOMA CITY

NASHVILLE, Jan. 1.—Gov. Hooper may some time see Europe, but in line with the advice of Mutt and Jeff he will see Oklahoma City first.

Accompanied by his wife, the governor left Nashville Wednesday night for a business visit to Oklahoma's metropolis. He will be gone until the middle of next week. He went on private business.

SOCIETY.

Entertained at Rook.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Kannon entertained a few friends at rook on Thursday evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

Christmas Dance.

The annual Christmas dance was the society event Christmas night at the Bethel House, in which quite a number participated. The large dining room was tastefully decorated in the colors of the holiday season, and Greenfield's band was at its best in the rendition of the music.

Christmas Dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Johnson entertained Christmas day with a six course dinner at their home on South Garden street at 2 o'clock. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Culley Eskew and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stone and children, Edgar Griffin, and Misses Sadie, Inez and Martha Williams from Alabama, sisters of the hostess.

Walters-Kinzer.

The marriage of Miss Frances Marian Kinzer and Howard P. Walters which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Wilkes at Sawdust Christmas day was one of much interest, and was beautiful in its appointments. The home was appropriately and beautifully decorated, and the impressive ceremony was pronounced by Rev. G. W. Hendley, pastor of the Methodist church at Williamsport. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. James R. Beard, while Miss Josie Kinzer rendered the wedding march. Following the marriage the bride and groom were tendered a reception at the home of the groom's parents, and they will begin house-keeping within a few days, the home being in preparation now. Mr. and Mrs. Walters are deservedly among the most popular of the young people in that section of the county, their popularity being attested by the large number of beautiful and useful presents they received.

To Compliment Dr. and Mrs. Padgett.

Dr. and Mrs. Hazel Padgett, of Nashville, have been the guests of relatives and friends in Columbia during the holidays. Christmas day Mrs. L. P. Padgett entertained at dinner in their honor, and Friday Mrs. Mary P. Grant was the hostess of a similar occasion.

To Compliment Porter Frierson.

Miss Beesie Hunter, Dawson, of Cross Bridges, entertained a number of friends in a six course luncheon at her home at 6 o'clock Friday evening. The holiday decorations prevailed and the occasion was one of the most pleasing of the social affairs in that community during the holidays.

Dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Godwin.

There was a family dinner at the county jail Saturday, with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Godwin as host and hostess, this dinner taking the place of usual annual deputy occasion. The guests present were John Fraser, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Polk Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fraser, and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Timmons and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Godwin, Miss Gladys Timmons, Willis White and Karl Timmons.

Christmas Night Party.

Miss Viola Hardison was the charming hostess Christmas night at her home in Riverside at a social given in honor of her house guest, Miss Lula Richardson, of Lewisburg. Music and games were enjoyed after which dainty refreshments were served.

For Miss Richardson.

Misses Nona and Annie Davis were hostesses Friday evening at their home in Riverside to compliment Miss Lula Richardson, of Lewisburg, the attractive guest of Miss Viola Hardison. Music and games were enjoyed by the young people until a late hour when a lunch course was served.

Entertains Sunday School Class.

Among all the holiday entertainments, none was more enjoyed than the one Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Robert E. Nichols opened her lovely home and entertained twenty-four children, members of her Sunday school class.

Though it was cold and disagreeable without the warmth and light, the bright holly and poinsettias and the merry children with their happy faces made a lovely scene within.

Several guessing contests were held the children being awarded boxes of candy as souvenirs.

Later in the afternoon ices and bon bon were served.

For Mr. and Mrs. Walker.

Complimentary to their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Howard P. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Turner. Tuesday night the Dinner to Personal Friends.

C. C. Vaughan entertained a half dozen of his personal friends at dinner Monday at his home on the Mooresville pike. There were no ladies present but without the directing hand and touch of the feminine what was a splendid success would have been a dismal failure. Those who partook of the hospitality of their friend were Bruce White, Walter McCandless, J. C. Hickman, Pink Murphy, John Jennette and J. J. Fleming.

Vaughan-Caskey.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock Miss Inez Caskey, Glendale, and Howard Vaughan, of the Mooresville pike, were married at the residence of Rev. F. E. Birkett, who pronounced the ceremony. They drove at once to the home of C. C. Vaughan, the father of the groom, on the Mooresville pike, where a wedding supper will be served tonight.

The groom is a progressive farmer whose home is four miles from Columbia on the Mooresville pike. The bride is a charming young woman of the Glendale community whose attributes of character and personal charms have made her a favorite among her friends.
